Kendra Masters: This is amazing!

00:11:42.772,00:11:45.772

The Junkyard Home School: Can people in SE WI participate?

00:20:39.435,00:20:42.435

Kendra Masters: Can you hit "present" so we can read a little better?

00:22:14.566,00:22:17.566

Destinee Udelhoven: Kendra, do you mean participate in the Driftless Seed Project?

00:22:51.446,00:22:54.446

Destinee Udelhoven: If so, though we haven't specifically defined our geographical focus, I think we'll have to probably stick a little "closer to home" because of limited resources, staff, etc.

00:22:56.710,00:22:59.710

The Junkyard Home School: I was talking about the Driftless seed project

00:24:06.560,00:24:09.560

Destinee Udelhoven: But maybe we can hook up via phone sometime soon and talk about your interest?

00:25:13.462,00:25:16.462

The Junkyard Home School: Seed Savers is something I wasn't not aware of before this presentation so that is some great info I can take away today.

00:30:07.673,00:30:10.673

Destinee Udelhoven: Yes-as a non-green thumber, the awesome works of Seed Savers Exchange is new to me, too!

00:30:19.397,00:30:22.397

Destinee Udelhoven: *are new to me (oops!)

00:32:00.924,00:32:03.924

The Junkyard Home School: I'm learning more every year of my gardening. I'm the kind of person who can kill ivy. :-)

00:41:39.536,00:41:42.536

Betsy True: Will there be a recorded video of this I can watch later. I got here late.

00:42:08.050,00:42:11.050

Destinee Udelhoven: Yes, Betsy! We will send out a follow-up email with the recording link within a few days.

00:48:01.735,00:48:04.735

The Junkyard Home School: What is open pollination?

00:56:29.876,00:56:32.876

Lora Lee: Doug, that is a beautiful photo!!!

00:57:47.498,00:57:50.498

michelle t: my mother grows the hyacinth bean for years and saves the pods. I have them at my house now. Are the seeds in the pod edible as I thought they were ornamental?

00:59:12.031,00:59:15.031

Kendra Masters: Is there anything to be mindful of as far as the impact of heirloom plants varieties on native ecosystems?

01:01:36.233,01:01:39.233

Destinee Udelhoven: Michelle, let's save that one for Q&A. But I won't forget!

01:01:50.803,01:01:53.803

Destinee Udelhoven: Kendra, same to you -I'll bring that up!

01:04:56.926,01:04:59.926

The Junkyard Home School: is there a PDF of the catalog online?

01:06:18.023,01:06:21.023

cindy way: The website lists seed catalog for Canadian residents only. ??

01:06:56.330,01:06:59.330

Destinee Udelhoven: Cindy, not sure where you're seeing that-but I requested my paper copy via the website about 2 months ago, and received it about 3 weeks ago.

01:07:45.152,01:07:48.152

cindy way: ok, im seeing it on the SSE website - but I'll take another look thanks

01:08:01.041,01:08:04.041

The Junkyard Home School: My library (Kenosha) has all three!

01:08:22.952,01:08:25.952

The Junkyard Home School: Books that is.

01:09:00.700,01:09:03.700

Lori M: Does SSE ever drop seeds, maybe because they've been so re-populated, their conservation is no longer needed?

01:09:54.286,01:09:57.286

rosa: Is the Historium going to be a seed library

01:11:42.260,01:11:45.260

Lori M: The Mount Horeb Public Library has also operated a "seed library" in the past.

01:11:42.895,01:11:45.895

Destinee Udelhoven: The Historium is an existing local history museum and research center. We focus our collecting on the Mount Horeb area. As part of the Driftless Seed Library, we will be the physical location where seeds will be disseminated and collected --but the Seed Project is a partner collaboration.

01:12:52.807,01:12:55.807

Destinee Udelhoven: *And to clarify-when I said "we focus our collecting in the Mount Horeb Area," I was referencing "traditional" museum collecting of archival and material culture artifacts.

01:13:05.355,01:13:08.355

Destinee Udelhoven: This seedy stuff is new to the organization! :)

01:14:25.216,01:14:28.216

Destinee Udelhoven: We talked to the Mt Horeb Public Library about the former Seed Library and experiences. I think where we differ is the emphasis on saving the oral histories and seed stories that we hope will accompany contributed seeds.

01:14:48.958,01:14:51.958

Lori M: Thanks, Destinee!

01:15:36.560,01:15:39.560

Lynn Rossing: Sorry if you already covered this. As a small-space gardener, can I obtain seeds from the exchange, but not contribute any back? Thanks!

01:15:45.992,01:15:48.992

James Richards: R heirlooms much more susceptible to insect, caterpillar, etc infestations.

01:17:37.977,01:17:40.977

Karen White: Excellent talk. I Love the story aspect that goes along with the seeds. You have opened my eyes to a new tradition. I will investigate all of this further. Thank you so much!

01:17:55.974,01:17:58.974

: One of your slides listed the types of seeds and quantities. It listed Cornsalad. What is that?

01:19:25.704,01:19:28.704

James Richards: How much to join sse

01:20:22.048,01:20:25.048

The Junkyard Home School: How does cornsalad compare to lettuce or spinach in terms of taste?

01:20:41.094,01:20:44.094

I kruckman: Many indigenous groups worldwide are copyrighting their seeds for protection. Is this a concern for seedsavers in the US?

01:21:07.321,01:21:10.321

Kathy Ernst: Thank you for the presentation...very educational and inspirational!

01:22:09.878,01:22:12.878

Kendra Masters: Yes this is glorious and inspirational. Time to sketch gardens and order a broad fork!

01:23:54.796,01:23:57.796

James Richards: Thank you all so much. Had no idea of this and very educational and interesting. Hope a healthy wave for a better future

01:23:58.019,01:24:01.019

The Junkyard Home School: Thanks for all the great info!

01:24:00.480,01:24:03.480

cindy way: Very interesting topic - thanks MH Hist Society for doing this - and to the SSE presenters - very good talk!

01:24:37.378,01:24:40.378

Rose Ellen Schneider: Thank you! Interesting topic.

01:25:05.856,01:25:08.856

Lori M: It's a great connection for the Historium! I love the shared partnership!

01:25:39.856,01:25:42.856

Kelly Cook: Thank you. Good stories shared.

01:25:41.818,01:25:44.818

Elizabeth Brewer: Indigenous communities are patenting seeds because companies are making huge profits with them making cosmetics, etc.

01:25:46.790,01:25:49.790

Nancy Schuller: Wonderful presentation!! Thanks for opening our eyes!

01:25:52.231,01:25:55.231

Lora Lee: This was a great webinar! Thank you!

01:26:04.706,01:26:07.706

Parul Trivedi: great presentation

01:26:05.576,01:26:08.576

K FI: Thank you!

01:26:16.459,01:26:19.459

Daniella Echeverría: Thank you so much!

01:26:19.005,01:26:22.005

michelle t: wonderful presentation!

01:26:24.230,01:26:27.230

Elizabeth Brewer: Thank you!

01:26:35.030,01:26:38.030

: Thank you!!!!!!

01:26:42.362,01:26:45.362

Lora Lee: Emily is a great presenter!!

01:26:44.500,01:26:47.500

I kruckman: Thank you so much Emily! Wonderful! Love all the resources!

01:26:53.459,01:26:56.459

betty grotophorst: thank you stay safe

01:27:39.811,01:27:42.811

JANET GILMORE: Congratulations Emily, Doug, and Destinee for an inspirational start! Thanks so much.

01:27:42.764,01:27:45.764

Lynn Messinger: Thank you Emily!! We'll definitely use this info!
